PATRIOTISM AROUSED BY STIRRING TALKS

ADDRESSES BY MAJOR GENERAL E. D. SWINTON AND HON. FRANK G. ODELL HAVE AUDIENCE AT HIGH PITCH.

ATTACKS HUN WARFARE

Speakers Severely Score Methods Used by Imperial Government to Win War—Claim Germany Wants Peace.

Much has been done within the past few months to have the people of this section of the country realize more clearly that the United States is at war. It has been said many times that the people did not realize that this country was at war and that it was in danger. One of the greatest things that has been done to bring the war home to the people of Rock County was accomplished yesterday when Major General E. D. Swinton and Hon. Frank G. Odell gave two ringing addresses before a large crowd at the Myers theatre.

It was the largest patriotic gathering ever held in this section of Wisconsin and was ample proof that the people of Wisconsin are true Americans and want to assist the boys at the front in any way possible. It was no place for the pro-German and if any were in the audience they felt mighty uncomfortable.

The meeting opened with the Bower Club singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King." Mr. M. G. Jeffris, chairman of the meeting, then addressed the crowd and introduced Mr. L. Ross, Director of Sales for Wisconsin. Mr. Ross gave a short address on the Liberty Loan, thanking the people of Rock County for the liberal way in which they subscribed to the first two loans and assuring them that the government was sure that Rock County was loyal and would do more than its share in the coming campaign.

Mr. Jeffris then introduced Mr. Frank G. Odell, secretary of the Federal Farm Loan Bank of Omaha, and for forty minutes the audience was held spellbound with the stirring patriotic talk that was given in Rock County. Mr. Odell, with oratory and eloquence that made the blood jump in the veins of his hearers, delivered a message that was a reply into the hearts of those present.

In opening he stated briefly that he had no time for introductions, that the message he brought was of vital importance and that he had no time to waste. He told of the German people he was told with and how they differed with the German people of today, how they had fled from Germany and came to this country.

He then told of the German people who were being recruited into the army. He told of the many cruelties that were inflicted upon the Belgians by the Huns. He then drifted into the coming senatorial election in Rock County and asked the people how they would acquit themselves if elected.

REV. L. C. RANDOLPH

of Milton, Wisconsin, will speak upon the subject of The Wisconsin Legislature and Constitutional Prohibition. He will also take up the matter of the Janesville No-License campaign.

The Public is Invited.

looked upon these raids. He also told of the sensations experienced in a modern battle, verified by his own investigation. He then told of the work accomplished by the British tank, of which he is an inventor. He had a miniature tank with him which he used in explaining the workings of the monster. They travel four miles an hour and are what the English call hellish climbers. They will cross a trench ten feet wide.

He then attacked the propaganda which the Germans have been spreading throughout the country in trying to cause hard feelings between the British and Americans. He stated that at the present time there are 7,500,000 allied men on the field and fully 60 per cent of these are English soldiers. He asked the people of this country going without white bread in order to send the wheat to England where the English were so fastidious to eat the English wheat. He was vicious in his attack on this statement and branded it as a deliberate lie. He stated that he had not had a slice of white bread for four weeks and that he was leaving England and that the food restrictions were greater there than in the United States.

Further in his address he congratulated the country on the fine soldiers who are sending France and on the remarkable way they are conducting themselves on foreign soil. He also paid a fitting tribute to the life spent in Germany. How the Germans have been planning for this war and openly talked of it. He described the imperial government as a nation made with a lust for power. He described them as fiends of hell and attacked them vigorously for the many atrocities they have committed. How they are claiming it is a war of defense and that it was not started by the German government was also branded as a falsehood. He stated that the imperial government wants to rule the world and that they will do everything in their power, use any means, fair or foul, to accomplish their end.

In closing he spoke for a few moments on the great battle of Verdun being waged in western Europe and being waged by the Germans. He assured the audience that they had no cause for fear and that for every foot of ground the Germans were gaining they were paying the price and that the tide would eventually turn in favor of the allies and if anything Von Hindenburg would be farther away from Paris on April 1st than he has been since the opening of the war.

LIBERTY LOANS.
News from the fighting front indicates that there is need of more men and more ammunition. One way to aid in supplying this need is by purchasing a Liberty bond or two. Being paid for being a patriot by receiving a good rate of interest for your loan.
The United States must furnish more troops and must train, arm and equip them. This takes millions, hence the demand for another loan, to which all loyal citizens must respond. The plans are being perfected for its handling and it will start on the anniversary of the United States entering this world's war—April 6th, we are told—a most memorable date. But it must be responded to liberally and everyone must do their share.

THE JUDICIARY.
By re-electing Judge Rosenberry as justice of the state supreme court the citizens of the state can scratch the political serpent that has crept into the bosom of the judiciary and trusted by clever manipulation of votes to place a boisterous, scheming politician upon the high court tribunal in the state. Not only to rebuke such an attempt should you vote for Rosenberry, but you should add to it the cost of your ballot for Justice Rosenberry. You can rest assured that you are electing a man whose training, instincts and associations imply fit him for the ermine. He now honors the seat he holds and his re-election should be complimentary and not political. The choosing of the man best fitted for the position and not the gift of politicians.

"YOUR SHARE IS FAIR"
The campaign to raise the county-wide fund that will take care of the veterans war debt for diverse funds, has met with success thus far and is about to be closed. Much work yet remains and was being the man who has the yellow card on file at the county Board of Defense headquarters for future reference. Report has it that in one town a certain individual refused to make a contribution and was so listed. Upon the fact being known he was informed by the stenoographer where he resided. "He was not desired." His possible purchases were refused at a second place where farm supplies are dealt in, and his neighbors have cut his acquaintance.
The yellow card is the only one from this town and his lesson is being driven home as he never anticipated.
"Your Share is Fair" is a slogan to remember.

THE BEST MAN.
The best man should be elected United States senator and there is no question that the best man in this case is the one who can, and should, poll the most votes and elect. Found in the person of Irvine Lenroot. His remarkable race at the primary, when he was opposed by the solid La Pollette element aided as in the past, by the democratic votes that can always be relied upon in democratic counties to vote for La Pollette, demonstrates he is the one man in Wisconsin today who can rid the state from the corruption and the charge of disloyalty.
The primary vote was small compared to the vote that will be cast on election day. The preliminary skirmish won, the real battle is on. It is certain that every disloyal voter went to the polls on primary day, while hundreds of thousands of loyal citizens failed to realize the importance of their vote and stayed home. On election day it will be different and Wisconsin will redeem itself by electing a loyal citizen and one who has proven his worth in congress, as United States senator—Irvine Lenroot. Let Rock county do its share and vote right.

LOCAL POLITICS.
In looking to the great selection of a United States senator on Tuesday of next week, the naming of a justice for the supreme bench, the voter must not forget that here at home there are two other important offices to fill, that of re-electing Judge George Grimm to the circuit bench and Judge Clark to the Beloit municipal bench. Judge Grimm's election is taken as a matter of course. No circuit judge in Wisconsin has handled the cases of his circuit with greater expedition and efficiency than Judge Grimm. He has saved the various counties in his circuit thousands upon thousands of dollars in costs of prosecuting cases by his method of settling them in chambers and avoiding lengthy and expensive trials. That his vote will be large is assured, but let us make it larger by casting every ballot possible for him. When it comes to Judge Clark of Beloit he should have an equally large support, an endorsement even though it is opposed, that is a mark of approval for the excellent work he has accomplished on the bench. In the midst of the throes of the new city political fights do not neglect this judicial question and vote for Rosenberry, Grimm and Clark on the judicial tickets. All are non-partisan and all are loyal and true and tried men worthy of the honor of the united support of citizens generally.

Too bad these people who are holding up the shipyard work can't have

The politicians are slowly waking up to the fact that the people who are going to get elected for some years to come are those that have done something in this war.

There are the usual number of motorists in this spring who think it ing the soldiers' jobs? Well, proba-

Serve America Day, appointed for April 6, at the beginning of the next liberty bond campaign, will not un-

The fact that a man denounces the millionaires for their callous indifference to the war, does not prove that you can get him to walk up to the postoffice and buy a war savings stamp.

The people who say the newspapers can't keep a secret would probably

And fortunately the exigencies of the food situation give the men an ex-you note that the butcher shops still their money to pay the fee of the best angle of attack. They climb out of the automobile. They creep to the wall of the great plant. They plant the bomb.

Scratch, scratch, scratch—They are striking a match with which to light the fuse.
Spitter, spitter, sputter—
The fire is running along the fuse toward the bomb.
BANG—
A deafening explosion. The conspirators flee to escape falling wreckage. The explosion was a success.
The great plant crumbles.
Putt, putt, putt—
Great gobs of soft material fall from the sky, almost burying the conspirators. It has been shot up by the explosion. It has a familiar odor.
CURSES—
A terrible mistake has been made.
They have blown up not American munitions but German munitions.
Faster falls the stuff from the sky, which all but envelops them.
They have destroyed A. Pumper-

Patter, patter, patter—Noise of efficiency escaping in the disorder.

MYERS THEATRE

The Totem Poles of the Northwest.

Yaman H. Howe's newest travel picture, which comes to the Myers Theatre on April 8 and 9, pictures the grotesque totem poles of the northwest during a fascinating motion picture trip of Alaska.

The totem poles, huge carved wooden figures, erected in old colors and designs, were used by the Indians to designate various families and clans. The totem poles were usually the houses of the totem and were considered by the Indians as sacred places. Mr. Howe's camera men succeeded in getting some remarkable pictures of the totem poles in the Northwest.

ley and Mariel Starr.

This season Marion Hutchins will be seen in the part. She has been under contract to A. H. Woods for the past five years. She only recently saw a performance of "The Bird of Paradise" and immediately asked Mr. Morosco to be allowed to enact the role this season. Mr. Morosco promptly acquiesced after seeing Miss Hutchins in support of John Mason in "Common Clay." It was with difficulty, however, that Miss Hutchins was able to obtain her release from the Woods office due to the fact that Mr. Woods had her cast for a leading part in an important production. It was due to Mr. Morosco's efforts that Miss Hutchins will be seen in "The Bird of Paradise."

Miss Hutchins gives promise of being the best "Luana" ever seen in the play.

"The Bird of Paradise" with its picturesque stage settings, wailing and plaintive music, and native musicians, will be seen at the Myers theatre, Sunday, March 31, evening only.

News Notes from Movieland

Royalty has gone into the movies in the person of the Hon. Mr. William de la Paz Beresford, sister-in-law of the English admiral, Lord Charles Beresford, and wife of the Hon. William Beresford, brother of Lord Dodes, husband of Vivian Gould. Mrs. Beresford has made her entry into the industry via World pictures, appearing in "The Cross Bearer" and other big World productions.

"Something to do while my husband is away 'over there,'" is being given as one reason for Mrs. Beresford's sensational plunge into the celluloid ranks. Her action has caused wide-spread comment in London and New York society circles, where she is well known.

Before her marriage in New York three years ago Mrs. Beresford was Florence Miller, a Providence, Rhode Island, society girl. She is a sister-in-law of Kitty Gordon, international famous beauty, who herself is a star for World pictures. It is said that Miss Gordon secured for Mrs. Beresford a small part, after which her ability became responsible for her advancement to better roles. Until a few weeks ago the deepest secret was maintained as to the identity of the woman who worked at the studio. Mrs. Beresford's appearance in "The Cross Bearer" will be awaited with interest.

Strengthen America

Liquor and the War

Food, Labor, Life--

These are the chief factors in winning the war;--AND THE LIQUOR MEN ARE WASTING ALL THREE!

They are wasting food--

last year the waste amounted to 7,000,000,000 pounds of food-stuffs!—And they have no right to starve some men by making others drunk!

They are wasting labor-- about 300,000 men are engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of booze—in breweries, saloons and restaurants, as brewers, bartenders and waiters—at a time when every man is needed in some useful occupation to help win the war.—The labor of these 300,000 men is worse than wasted—no possible good can come of it, but much harm is done.

They are wasting life-- bartenders, brewery workers and waiters in saloons lose an average of six years of life on account of their occupations. If the 300,000 men who make and sell booze lose an average of six years of life, it makes a total of 1,800,000 years of life. The average man works about 30 years—so that the liquor traffic is using up the equivalent of 60,000 men in each generation. And this is too great a price for the nation to pay.

For these reasons:

- First—the waste of food;
- Second—the waste of labor;
- Third—the waste of life;

—for these reasons we have a right to demand that the liquor business be abolished.

If you believe that the traffic in Alcohol does more harm than good—help stop it!

FULTON SHOULD TAKE CHANCE WITH WILLARD

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
New York, March 26.—There's been a lot of huddling of late over whether or not Fred Fulton would agree to meet Jack Dempsey, the latest sensation in the heavyweights, before meeting Jess Willard.

It is a fact that an examination bout between these two would be a money-maker, a great fight, and all that, but there are very good reasons why Fulton should refuse to meet Dempsey, although it is probable he will consent to the meeting. Fulton never has shown himself to be a man who backed any one. He has fought them all just as fast as they challenged him, and has beaten them.

In the first place, it isn't at all probable that Dempsey is worth all the advance praise that has been lavished upon him. It is the case it is quite probable he would prove a tough nut for Fulton.

Fulton failed to stop Dempsey's chances of meeting Willard would be added to Dempsey's fast accumulating laurels.

On the other hand, Dempsey has some things to consider. If he should meet Fulton he would be going up against by far the toughest proposition he ever was called on to tackle. He would be meeting one of the hardest-hitting heavyweights ever seen in a ring, and one of the cleverest big men who ever attained prominence as a scrapper. He would be going into the bout practically a novice, while Fulton is an experienced man, while Fulton is an experienced man, while Fulton is an experienced man.

of being knocked out, or, at least, being so badly beaten his star would have to begin all over again to reach the top point it now holds.

If Dempsey is so certain he can defeat Fulton, it probably would be a good thing for him to tarry a while and learn a few more points about the game. There are very few fight followers who believe Jess Willard would survive a meeting with Fulton. Dempsey's chance would be forthcoming soon in that event.

Many a good young fighter has been pushed along too fast. It isn't at all improbable that this thing is happening to Dempsey.

Sales of the Friendly Forest

LIXII.
Let's see, I left off in the last story just where Billy Bunny landed on the bank of the river. Well, now I'm going to tell you what happened after that.

"I was lucky to get across on that old board," thought the little rabbit, as he hopped up the bank to look at him. The field was covered with daisies and in the distance a black cow stood flicking off the flies with her long tail.

"Hello!" cried the little rabbit, "why don't you eat the flowers?" The black cow looked up and said: "Why don't you stand on your head?" And would you believe it Billy Bunny did. Yes sir. He stood first on his right ear and then on his left ear, and then turned two corners and a handspike backward, and this made the cow laugh so hard that she got her tail twisted around a fence rail and couldn't get away.

"What shall I do?" she cried anxiously. It's almost milking time, and when I don't come home they'll wonder where I am. Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" "Don't worry," said the Billy Bunny, and he opened his knapsack and took out his little hatchet and chopped the tail—I mean the rail—off the fence so that she could get home, all though, of course, she had to drag the rail all the way back to the farm, and the farmer scolded her for breaking down his fence, which was too bad, for she couldn't help it, you know. Well, after that the little rabbit hopped away, and by and by, just as it was getting quite dark, he came to a big pile of wood. Now this will be a good place for me to sleep," he said to himself, and looked about for a hole to squeeze into. But, oh dear me, and oh dear you! A big owl flew out and hooted, and tooted three times and a half, and then winked his eyes at the little rabbit until he was so scared he could hardly stand up.

"What are you doing in my wood, pie?" asked the blinky old bird severely. "Trying to steal my wood," cried Billy Bunny. "I was looking only for a place to sleep."

"I don't believe you," sneezed the blinky, winky bird, and he made a grab for the little rabbit with his hooked feet. And he would have caught Billy Bunny, too, and eaten him for supper that night, if only the little rabbit hadn't pulled his gun out of his knapsack and hit the wicked owl on the tail with the bullet, which so scared the ugly bird that he flew into the forest. After that Billy Bunny crept into the wood pile and went to sleep and dreamed that it caught on fire and the sparks flew up into the air and covered the whole sky with twinkling stars.

The Cardinals may begin their preliminary work in the south without one of last year's regular outfielders signed. Fred "Fanny" Long has been released and Walter Cruise and Jack Smith are holdouts.
